NOTES IN SEASON.

LITTLE, BROWN & CO. have just published a novel entitled "The Duke's Servants," by Sidney Herbert Burchell, author of "In the Days of King James." They will publish at once a popular edition, in cloth, of Selma Lagerlöf's powerful story, "The Miracles of Antichrist," in its excellent English translation made by Pauline B. Flach. They are also preparing a cheaper edition in paper covers, for which the American News Company will be the distributing agents.

HARPER & BROTHERS have just ready Charles Dudley Warner's new novel, "That Fortune;" "Reminiscences of the Santiago Campaign," by Captain John Bigelow, a straightforward account of that campaign, by an army officer, which is valuable for the light it throws on the much-discussed army scandals, though the author does not attempt to place the blame, but only points out the culpable abuses and neglects; also, "The Sixth Sense, and other stories," by Margaret Sutton Briscoe, author of "Jimty."

R. F. FENNO & CO. will publish shortly Joseph Hatton's new book, "The White King of Manoa." They have in press "The Yellow Danger, or, what might happen if the division of the Chinese Empire should estrange all European countries," by M. P. Shiel, author of "The Man-Stealers;" "The Voyage of the Pulo Way," by Carlton Dawe, a story of piracy on the high seas; also, "Honor of Thieves," by C. J. Cutcliffe Hyne, which is the first of the Captain Cuttle stories, and has never been published in book form in America.

D. APPLETON & CO. will publish at once "The Races of Europe, a sociological study," by Prof. William Z. Ripley, to which is appended a comprehensive bibliography; "Plant Relations," a first book of botany, by Prof. John M. Coulter; "The Kingdom of Hate," a new novel by T. Gallon, author of "Tatterly," and "A Prince of Mischance;" a popular edition of Bellamy's "Equality;" also, a revised edition of "Appleton's Canadian Guide-Book." They will publish next month "The Strange Story of Hester Wynne," by G. Colmore, author of "A Daughter of Music."

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish shortly the concluding volume of Donald G. Mitchell's "American Lands and Letters," the publication of which has been delayed owing to the serious illness of the author. In the forthcoming volume will be described those American writers of the past generation with whom Mr. Mitchell was personally acquainted. We are thus to have impressions of Edgar A. Poe, N. P. Willis, the Beechers, Bayard Taylor, Whittier, and Bryant; the Concord group—Emerson, Hawthorne, Thoreau, and Alcott; the Cambridge group—Lowell, Longfellow, and others, and the Boston group—Holmes, Fields, and Ticknor.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY will publish at an early date a two-volume work entitled "State Trials, Political and Social," selected and edited by H. L. Stephen, of the Inner Temple. The editor has tried to bring the atmosphere of the Crown Court into the study and to enable the reader as it were to take a contemporary interest in the men and women long since dead on the block or the gallows. What the trials in these cases tell, as nothing else can, is what were the popular beliefs as to witchcraft shared by such a man as Hale; how revolutions were planned while such things were still an important faction in practical politics; and what was the state of the second city in the United Kingdom when a man could be kidnapped in its busiest streets by a gang of sailors and privateersmen. They have in press Professor George H. Carpenter's "Insects—their structure and life." The work is designed as a small, inexpensive text-book of entomology, profusely illustrated and furnished with an exhaustive bibliography of authorities. They announce that the Hon. Dorman B. Eaton's work on "The Government of Municipalities," which was promised for this spring, will not be issued until the fall.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc. is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p., in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

Aitken, W. Hay M. H. The romance of Christian work and experience. New ed. N. Y., E. P. Dutton & Co., 1899. 4–522 p. por. O. cl., $2. [2071

Aims to show that there is within the scope of spiritual activities and experiences something that answers to our interpretation of romance as applied to social life. The author says that his work is for the most part a methodical arrangement of incidents which came under his personal observation, or that were related by friends. Some of the material was formerly published in a series of letters written for the London Record.

Alexander, S. A. The Christianity of St. Paul. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1899. 8+216 p. D. cl., $1.25. [2072

The sermons of which this volume consists were preached at the Temple Church (England) as part of an attempt to illustrate, in a direct and practical and simple way, the mind of St Paul on certain great aspects of the Christian faith.

Balch, T: International courts of arbitration, 1874. Phil., H: T. Coates & Co., 1899. 3+49 p. O. cl., n. p. [2073

The son of the late Thomas Balch, a well-known lawyer and writer of Philadelphia, has reprinted his father's pamphlet on the subject of international arbitration, first published in the Law Magazine and Review, of London, for November, 1874, and afterwards issued in pamphlet in this country. To it Mr. Balch's son has added a brief prefatory note, and his father's notes of an interview with President Lincoln in November, 1864, and a reference to Mr. Balch's letter to the New York Tribune on the subject printed on May 13, 1865.

Barr, Rob., ["Luke Sharp," pseud.] The strong arm. N. Y., F: A. Stokes Co., [1899.] c. '97–'99. 4+336 p. D. cl., $1.25. [2074

The besieging of Castle Von Schonburg and the rescue of an emperor are the most interesting incidents in the first story, "The strong arm." The methods of marine engineering described are, according to the author, those which have been successfully used in certain instances. His purpose has been to avoid, as far as possible, the subjects fully treated by A E Seaton in "A manual of marine engineering." In the present work considerable attention is given to the care, maintenance, and repairing of marine machinery, with the hope of making it a useful supplement to Mr. Seaton's manual. The author is instructor in applied mechanics and engine design, Royal Naval College, Greenwich.

Kit Mullinder and Gregory Alison have to defer their marriage for want of sufficient income. Gregory is a soldier, and his regiment is ordered to India. Kit secures an opening in a London theatre, becomes a leading actress, and afterwards the manager of a first-class theatre, and makes money. Although the pair finally marry, their interests are so opposite that their lives drift apart, and here the tragedy of the story comes in. A very truthful picture is given of the best side of theatrical life, both as seen behind the curtain of a leading theatre and in the domestic life of an ambitious, intelligent actress of irreproachable character.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JULY 1, 1899.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Books for the "Weekly Record," as well as all information intended for that department, must reach this office by Tuesday morning of each week.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of "The American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

The editor will be glad to print information of general interest to the trade from all parts of the country, and encourages the patrons of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY to keep him promptly informed of any trade news that may come under their notice. Especially does he solicit an exchange of ideas among his readers on improved methods of keeping stock, managing help, administering the store and on kindred subjects.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE PUBLISHERS' CONGRESS.

[Editorial Correspondence.]

LONDON, June 10, 1899.

THE International Congress of Publishers at London—third of its kind, following those at Paris and at Brussels—was a distinct success, not so much for immediate results as for the intercourse and good feeling it promoted among publishers, and for the suggestions it made and the lines it laid down for the future. Most of the book-producing countries were represented, by authorized delegates from publishers' and booksellers' associations, as well as by many individual publishers, particularly from England, France, and Germany. As the United States, which had no representatives at previous congresses, has, unfortunately, no general association of publishers, the American Publishers' Copyright League named delegates in the persons of Mr. W. W. Appleton, Mr. J. Henry Harper, Mr. G. H. Putnam, and Mr. R. R. Bowker. As Mr. Appleton had left London, and Mr. Harper did not reach it for the meeting, Mr. F. H. Dodd was made a delegate, and with Mr. Putnam and Mr. Bowker officially represented the United States. Several other American publishers were present, including Mr. D. C. Heath, who read the only paper presented by an American, Mr. Henry B. Barnes, Mr. Silver, and others. The leading London publishers, Mr. John Murray, the Longmans, Mr. Frederick Macmillan, Mr. A. and Mr. R. B. Marston, Mr. Heinemann, Mr. Cross of Cassell's, Mr. T. Fisher Unwin, and others were present, and such representatives of France as M. Fouret of Hachette's, M. Masson, and M. Layus; and of Germany as Herr Brockhaus, Herr Engelhorn, the president of the Börsenverein, and Herr Mühlbrecht.

The questions most before the congress were those of the extension of copyright protection. The other nations were especially anxious to hear from America on this point; but aside from a very careful and admirable statement by Mr. Putnam on the difficulties in the way, it was not possible to give satisfactory word, and as the United States is not a party to the treaty of Berne, its delegates abstained from voting on questions connected with the treaty. Mr. Putnam stated that the American Publishers' Copyright League had approved the principle of extending the period for copyright deposit in the case of translations from foreign languages, and waiving the manfacturing clause on the originals of foreign works, and incidentally he made clear that many American publishers would be prepared to accede to a much wider acceptance of copyright protection if other interests than those of authors and publishers were not involved. The English and foreign representatives, though of course disappointed, received these explanations with great courtesy.

Professor Mavor, of Toronto, came from Canada as a representative of its Society of Authors, with a suggestion as to the vexed question of Canadian copyright which it was generally thought might solve that difficulty. It was simply that if a license to publish for Canada were issued by the copyright proprietor, then other editions (as from England or the United States) might be excluded by the customs officials, as in the other countries. In default of specified arrangements, American publishers have held that "the American market" covers Canada, because that is by geographical and trade relations part of America; while English publishers have claimed all the colonies, the Dominion included, as the English market. It cannot be denied that the English author may treat for Canada as a third market, and this the proposition would make possible for him. The protection of new forms or styles of books and of the plan of educational works—the latter brought forward in a paper by Mr. Heath—were also discussed, but left over for the next congress, which is to meet in Leipzig in 1901.

The congress met in three sections, for technical, copyright protection, and legal questions respectively, but there was much crossing of lines, so that copyright was in fact discussed in all. Discounts and the credit system had much attention, particularly in a careful statement as to German methods, read in the first section.

The ancient Stationers' Hall formed a delightful place of meeting, and was the scene also of the memorable banquet given by the Stationers' Company, at which admirable speeches were made by Professor Bryce, Mr. Putnam, Mr. Lecky, M. Brunetière, and others. Mr. Putnam's address was especially scholarly as well as happy. Delightful hospitalities were extended individually by the London publishers. Messrs. Cassell gave an interesting exhibition of black-and-white in Cutlers' Hall, and a brilliant conversazione in the Guildhall fitly closed the meeting.

THE WORLD'S OUTPUT OF BOOKS.

"HAVING obtained, through the kindness of Lord Cromer, some particulars of the output of the Egyptian National Printing Press, at Beulak, it occurred to me," writes Ronald Smith to the London Bookseller, (June 13, 1899,) "that it might be useful to show, in tabular form, the extent to which each country contributed annually to the world's literature. In pursuing inquiries with this object in view, I was met, almost at the outset, with evidence of progress in regard to the statistics of book production where it was least expected, and where expected—where, indeed, I made certain of getting it—it was not forthcoming, although requested through an official channel. It would hardly strike one that Egypt and Greece would separately illustrate, statistical advancement and statistical backwardness. Yet this is precisely true. As shown in the return obtained through the courtesy of the British Agency at Cairo, Egypt produces annually in Arabic and European languages an average of 164 new books classified under fourteen heads, such as history, poetry, law, belles-lettres, travel, etc., etc., and prints 226,200 copies; 171,500 in Arabic and 54,700 in European languages. On the other hand, although inquiries have been made at Athens through the British Legation, no trustworthy information in regard to the production of books in Greece could be obtained, the member of the Legation to whose good offices I am indebted stating that there are no statistics of the kind. And this was no mere diplomatic answer, but the conclusion to which he had come, after repeated efforts, each unsuccessful, to obtain an account of the books produced in Greece. It is rather curious, too, that in Russia, where bureaucratic development seems almost the chief end of man—at any rate, the official man—there should be no figures giving the book production of the Empire. Estimates in the nature of rough guesses, rough enough to be extremely wide of the truth, have been made, but to serve the object of this paper I could be content with nothing less than approximate figures. And even these the authorities of the Imperial Library are not in a position to give. At any rate, though the exceedingly courteous authorities would not say positively that they either had not, or would not give the particulars requested, they found so many difficulties conveniently in the way that their answer was really a civil negative. Their diplomacy forbids them to put any one off with an indifferent story, but it is one all the same. So that Russia, as well as Greece, may be classed as lacking statistical evidence of the annual output of books within her bounds.

"Turning to Italy, I find already prepared by the Central National Library at Florence a remarkably full and interesting table giving particulars of the works published in Italy since 1886. The records probably contain schedules of publications before that year, but the table which I have received through the kindness of the British embassy in Rome, giving data of publications for twelve years down to 1897, will suffice for my present purpose.

"In Austria no official Austrian bibliography exists up to the present date, the difficulties in the way arising from the variety of languages in which the literature of Austria is published not having been yet surmounted. That some progress is being made towards the production of an Austrian bibliography may be inferred from the fact that the authorities of the Imperial Library—that is, the library of the court—are collecting particulars respecting publications in the different languages of the empire. Some data regarding German, Czechian, Bohemian, and Polish literature have been obtained, but as yet no means have been found to obtain data, sufficiently complete, respecting Croatian, Slavonian, and Italian (Austrian.) publications. Nor does it appear that in Germany an official bibliography exists; at any rate, no particulars giving the annual output of books are published by the German Government, and for the figures in the appended table I am indebted to the good offices of Viscount Gough, and to Williams & Norgate, the publishers.* About one thousand works of all kinds are published yearly in Switzerland, but as no law exists there compelling their authors to supply copies to the National Library, the figure given is only approximate. No details are available in regard to the nature or classification of the works. In Belgium the average annual production of books varies from 2000 to 2200 volumes per annum, and the reviews, periodicals, etc., number between 700 and 800. The authorities issue a complete and well-indexed list in two volumes of all the books, reviews, and the like published annually. There is no official account published of the book production in the Netherlands, but through the good offices of Sir Henry Howard, the British Minister at the Hague, I am enabled to give the list drawn up by Monsieur Bijvanck, of the Royal Library. This list differs only slightly from one most kindly compiled for me by J. H. Heteren, Secretary to the Dutch Society of Booksellers. The three Scandinavian Kingdoms—Denmark, Sweden, and Norway—keep trustworthy accounts, though not official, of the books each produces. For the production in Denmark I am much indebted to Mr. Johnstone, of the British Legation in Copenhagen, whose figures are compiled from the journal Nordisk Boghandlertidende. I should add that the works of many of the most distinguished Norwegian authors (Ibsen, Bjornson, etc.,) are published in Copenhagen. Mr. Pakenham, the British Minister at Stockholm, has been so good as to furnish me with details of book production in Sweden, and Mr. Stewart MacGregor, our Vice-Consul at Christiania, and Messrs. Cammermeyer, the well-known Norwegian booksellers, have provided the materials for the list for Norway.

"The production of books in France is large; the list is in two volumes, published by the Cercle de la Librairie, Paris. In Portugal statistics are so little cultivated that it excites some surprise that any should be asked for. At any rate, none could be obtained though most diligently sought after. Much the same thing may be said for Spain, with this addition, that last year Spain had something else to think about. China seems outside the librarian's purview, there being neither statistics of book production obtainable nor any machinery in the Empire whereby these might be procured. Though Japan takes no account as yet of her contributions to the world's output of books, she will not be long behind European countries in this regard.

"In 1880, the year in which THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY of New York began to gather statistics of books produced in the United States, the total was 2076 books. Year by year the production has slowly increased, and in 1897 the total of 4171 new books and 757 new editions was reached. In the following particulars are given of the production of books in Canada, but it may be useful to point out that a copy of every book registered in Canada is furnished to the British Museum.

"I find that the total average production annually of the thirteen countries represented in the table is 77,250 works."

* We wonder why Mr. Smith did not consult the statistics prepared by the J. C. Hinrich's Buchhandlung, and published each year in the Börsenblatt at the close of the Easter fair. These statistics have as much the stamp of official authority as those promulgated by the Cercle de la Librairie at Paris, or those prepared by the Central National Library at Florence.—ED. P. W.

OBITUARY NOTES.

REV. SAMUEL HARRIS, D.D., professor of systematic theology at Yale University, and formerly president of Bowdoin College (1867–1871,) died at Litchfield, Conn., June 26. He was born at East Machias, Me., June 14, 1814. He was graduated from Bowdoin in 1833 and from Andover Theological Seminary in 1838. After teaching several years and preaching four years Dr. Harris became professor of systematic theology in the Bangor Theological Seminary. In 1867 he was elected president of Bowdoin. In 1871 he resigned and accepted the professorship at Yale, which he held until his death. Dr. Harris won distinction both as a writer and as a speaker, his power of extemporary speech being marked. His published works include the following: "Zaccheus, the Scriptural Plan of Beneficence" (1844,) "The Kingdom of Christ on Earth" (1874,) "The Philosophical Basis of Theism" (1883) —the best known of his works—and "Self-Revelation of God" (1887.) He also contributed many articles to The New-Englander and to Bibliotheca Sacra.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

A NEW novel by Mrs. Humphry Ward is to appear in Harper's Magazine next year. The title is "Eleanor."

F. MARION CRAWFORD'S new novel is said to deal with Italian secret societies and to bear the title of "The Anarchists."

FRÄULEIN BENIGNA KANT, a grand-niece of Immanuel Kant, the author of the "Criticism of the Pure Reason," died recently at the poor house at Mittau, in Kurland, aged seventy-two, destitute and without friends.

F. P. DUNNE, the author of "Mr. Dooley," has arranged to write a series of articles on English life to appear periodically in England as well as in this country. In an interview with a London Chronicle representative Mr. Dunne told the story of the evening paper in which "Mr. Dooley" first made his appearance —an ill-fated sheet which the gods loved. One day, just before the end, a funeral passed the office with a band playing the "Dead March" in "Saul." The editor and Mr. Dunne watched it with emotion and fear. "Can it be," they whispered, "our subscriber?"

PROFESSOR BENJAMIN IDE WHEELER, of Cornell, was elected on June 16 president of the California State University. Professor Wheeler was born in Randolph, Mass., in 1854, and was the son of a Baptist minister. He prepared for college at Colby Academy, New London, N. H., and was graduated at Brown University in 1875. For the following four years he was a teacher of the classics in the Providence High School, and then for two years an instructor in Brown. In 1881 he went abroad and studied for four years at Leipsic, Heidelberg, Jena, and Berlin. In the spring of 1885 he also travelled and studied in Greece. He received the degree of Ph.D. at Heidelberg. Upon his return to this country he served a year as an instructor at Harvard, and then, in 1886, was chosen to fill the chair of Greek and comparative philology at Cornell, where he has since remained. In 1897 he spent a year in Athens as a professor in the American School of Classical Studies. In 1892 Professor Wheeler declined a chair in the University of Chicago, and he was among those talked of for the presidency of Brown when Dr. Andrews resigned, and also for the presidency of the University of Rochester, but he declined the overtures made to him. He is the author of "The Greek Noun Accent," and, with two other scholars, of "The History of Language." The series of articles on Alexander the Great now appearing in the Century Magazine is written by him. He has also contributed to many philological and scientific journals.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

IN the July Critic will be printed M. H. Spielmann's attack on the authenticity of the Thackeray papers and illustrations now being printed in that magazine. In the same number will be printed the reply of Mr. Dickson, who is the collector and editor of this collection of Thackeray's contributions to Punch. Mr. Spielmann's insinuations to the contrary, Mr. Dickson is not a "fakir," but a gentleman of unquestioned honor, who has long been known to Thackeray lovers as possessing one of the largest and best collections of Thackeray editions, manuscripts, and "ana" in America.

THE first number of The Prison Forum, a prison paper to be published monthly by the inmates of the penal institutions of the City of New York, written, illustrated, and printed in the prisons, was published on June 17, and 5000 copies were distributed among the prisoners, a few being sent outside the walls. The editor is a young man who was brought up in a wayward's children's home and in the Elmira Reformatory, and is now serving a sentence in the Blackwell's Island Penitentiary for grand larceny. The publisher formerly conducted a musical magazine in New York, and the artists who have illustrated the first number show considerable skill. The paper is printed in the Kings County Penitentiary. It is 8 by 12 inches in size, and has sixteen three-column pages. The editorial page tells of the purposes and aims of the new paper. A page is given to open letters from inmates of the different prisons, telling, over initials, what they will do when they get out of the institutions. There is a page of clever verse headed "The Rhyme Factory," and a page devoted entirely to jokes.

BUSINESS NOTES.

CHERRELYN, COLO.—L. B. Raymer, who about three months ago sold out his book business at Salt Lake City, is at present residing here. He expects shortly to open bookstores at Detroit and Grand Rapids, and would like to receive, addressed to him here, catalogues of job lots in books, boys' libraries, novels, etc.

DENVER, COLO.—Kelley & Westling, booksellers, have gone out of business.

DENVER, COLO.—The Lawrence Book and Stationery Co. has removed to 1530 Champa Street, where Mr. Lawrence will close out the business.

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK.—W. T. Barry & Co., booksellers, have sold out.

GONZALES, TEX.—W. H. Fitzgerald, bookseller, has sold out.

JAMAICA PLAIN, MASS.—J. E. McCurdy has bought H. F. Brooks's book business.

LEBANON, PA.—D. P. Witmeyer, bookseller, has been succeeded by W. H. Bowman.

LOWVILLE, N. Y.—Mrs. Sarah Van Brocklin, bookseller, has sold out to Charles H. Rumble.

MERRIMAC, MASS.—Jordan & Co. have bought George N. Goodwin's news and stationery store.

RICHMOND, VA.—The first meeting of the creditors of George M. West & Co. will be held on the 5th inst., at the office of William F. Wickham, Referee in Bankruptcy, 20 Shafer Building.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.—L. B. Raymer has sold his book business here to D. A. Callahan.

STARKE, FLA.—Morgan Brothers, booksellers, have sold out.

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTES.

CLEMENT SHORTER is actively at work upon the catalogue of his library referred to in our issue for June 24. It is to be published as "An Editor's Book Shelves," by Ward & Lock, of London, in October, when he also hopes to launch his new journalistic venture.

THE "Cumulative Index," published by the Helman-Taylor Co., changes its method of publication with the April number, which has just made its appearance. Beginning with this issue, it returns to monthly publication, and will hereafter cumulate quarterly instead of semi-annually. The four quarterly numbers, in separate alphabets, will thus make the annual record. The June number will be the second quarterly issue. The number of periodicals indexed has been reduced to fifty instead of the 100 previously included.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

METHUEN & CO., London, will publish in September the biography of Sir John Millais.

C. A. PEARSON, Ltd., London, will publish in the fall T. P. O'Connor's "The Tragedy of Parnell."

L. FRANK BAUM's new book of nursery rhymes, which is being illustrated by William W. Denslow, is to be entitled "Father Goose; his Book."

THE HUDSON-KIMBERLEY CO., of Kansas City, Mo., will publish immediately "The House of Dreams, and Other Poems," by William Griffith.

MATTHEW BREEN, 71 Broadway, New York, has written, and will publish on the 10th inst., a work entitled "Thirty Years of New York Politics—up-to-date."

NORMAN W. HENLEY & CO. have just issued a work on "Mechanical Movements," by Gardner D. Hiscox, with 1640 illustrations made specially for this book.

GINN & CO. have nearly ready, in their International Modern Language Series, an edition of Seume's "Aus Meinem Leben," with introduction and notes by Prof. J. H. Senger, of the University of California.

E. P. DUTTON & CO. have just issued a volume entitled "Books Worth Reading, a plea for the best and an essay towards selection, with short introductions to many of the world's great authors," by Frank W. Raffety.

IT is reported that Small, Maynard & Co. will buy the entire stock and business of Copeland & Day. The price to be paid is said to be about $9000; it was figured out by an authority in the publishing business to be worth about $20,000.

THE SCIENTIFIC PUBLISHING CO., New York, has nearly ready the seventh issue of "The Mineral Industry: its statistics, technology, and trade in the United States and other countries to the end of 1898," edited by Richard P. Rothwell.

THE NORTHERN INDIANA HISTORICAL SOCIETY, South Bend, Ind., has just issued its first publication, entitled "The St. Joseph-Kankakee Portage—its location and use by Marquette, La Salle, and the French voyageurs," by George A. Baker, secretary of the society.

JOHN LANE publishes this week a volume of short stories entitled "Of Necessity," by H. M. Gilbert, who, a new-comer in the literary world, is said to possess considerable talent; also, "Sun Beetles," by G. Pinkerton, which is described as "A Comedy of Nickname Land."

H. S. STONE & CO. will publish in the fall Arthur Morrison's new novel, entitled "To London Town." It is a story of East End life, but deals with quite a different phase from that which forms the subject-matter of the same author's "Tales of Mean Streets" and "A Child of the Jago."

D. VAN NOSTRAND COMPANY have just published a work on "Chimney Design and Theory," for engineers and architects, by William Wallace Christie. The book contains all data relating to the subject, and is illustrated with numerous designs and full-page engravings of many famous chimneys.

THE delegates of the Oxford University Press announce that they hope that Dr. Murray's great dictionary may be completed by 1909, and the first half of it next year. They have decided to commence on the first of next month a new issue, in monthly parts, each of eighty-eight pages, at a published price of 3*s.* 6*d.*

RALPH CONNOR, the author of "Black Rock, a tale of the Selkirks," an account of camp life in the British Columbia lumber and mining region, has just completed a new book on the same lines, entitled "The Sky-Pilot of the Foothills, or, more tales of the Selkirks." Both of these books will be issued early this month by the Fleming H. Revell Company.

HENRY HOLT & CO. will publish at once "Elements of Public Finance," by W. M. Daniels. This is a handy manual for the general reader or the student, in which is described the actual system in the United States, with some exposition and criticism. The author's point of view is, in the main, conservative, favoring proportional as against progressive taxation, and corporate initiative (under legal restriction) as against public ownership of most city monopolies.

MAYNARD, MERRILL & CO. announce that after several years of most careful preparation they are about to publish a series of school readers under the editorial supervision of Dr. Harry Pratt Judson, Dean of the Colleges of Arts, Literature, and Science, University of Chicago, and Dr. Ida C. Bender, Supervisor of Primary Grades in the Public Schools of Buffalo, N. Y. The first book will be published about August 1, and the other numbers of the series will follow at short intervals.

SMITH-ANDREWS PUB. CO., of Chicago, announce that they have arranged with Houghton, Mifflin & Co. for an exclusive popular edition of Longfellow's "The Courtship of Miles Standish," (50,000 copies,) to be printed by the Riverside Press from the plates of their Holiday edition, illustrated by Boughton, Merrill, Reinhart, Perkins, Hitchcock, and other famous artists. The book is a 12mo and printed on heavy enamelled paper, and the cover design is stamped in gold and several colors.

BROWN & CO., Boston, announce for publication, on August 15, "A Kipling Primer," by Frederick Lawrence Knowles, editor of "Cap and Gown," etc. The volume will contain complete bibliographical data of first editions, a bibliography of reference articles, a scholarly and popular critical appreciation of Kipling's works, and an alphabetical index to the plots of all stories and ballads. They also announce for August an authorized translation, by Mary J. Safford, of "The King and Queen of Mollebusch, or, the indispensables," a delightful folk-tale, by Georg Ebers. It is to be illustrated with full-page half-tones after the German.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have secured the American rights in the following forthcoming English books: "The Yang-tse Valley and Beyond," by Mrs. Bishop, the author of "Korea," and of several works on China; "The Bearers of the Burden," the title of which was suggested by Kipling's poem, "The White Man's Burden," by Major W. P. Drury of the Horse Marines, a collection of Indian tales; "Study of the Hand," by Dr. Edward Blake; "Darwinism and Lamarckism," by Frederick W. Hutton; "The Art of Dining," by Abraham Hayward; "Embroidery and Lace," by E. Lefebvre; also, "The World's Wheat Supply," by Sir William Crookes.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO. will publish on the 8th inst., in the Riverside Paper Series, "The Wise Woman," by Clara Louise Burnham. They announce that they have taken over from Longmans, Green & Co. the following books by Colonel Thomas Wentworth Higginson: "Atlantic Essays," "Common Sense About Women," "Army Life in a Black Regiment," "The New World and the New Book," "Travellers and Outlaws," "Malbone: an Oldport Romance," "Oldport Days," "Out-Door Days," "Out-Door Papers," "The Procession of the Flowers," "The Afternoon Landscape, Poems and Translations," "The Monarch of Dreams," and "Wendell Phillips." They are now prepared to supply orders for these volumes. They have in preparation Bret Harte's new volume of stories, to be entitled "The Meditation of Jack Hamlin, and other stories."

DODD, MEAD & CO. have just ready the "Genealogy of the Hoffman Family, descendants of Martin Hoffman, with biographical notes." This volume has been compiled from material collected by the Very Reverend Dean Eugene Augustus Hoffman, D.D., of the General Theological Seminary of New York. It contains eighteen plates, mostly portraits reproduced from original miniatures in the possession of the family. The edition is limited to 350 copies, of which one hundred are on Van Gelder handmade paper. They will publish in this country "Our Lady of Darkness," a new novel by Bernard Capes, the author of "The Comte de la Muette," etc. They have acquired the plates of William Hale White's ["Mark Rutherford"] three remarkable books—"The Autobiography of Mark Rutherford," "Mark Rutherford's Deliverance," and "The Revolution in Tanner's Lane." They will be published in more attractive form than heretofore, in two volumes. "The Autobiography" and "Deliverance" being really the same story, will be in one volume. They will publish in the fall "The Autobiography of a Child," by Hannah Lynch, a record of unhappy childhood—of an unnatural mother between whom and her child existed an instinctive antipathy.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

WHO publishes "The American Encyclopædia for Political Science?" J. S.

281 4th AVENUE, NEW YORK, June 21.

CAN any one inform me of a "Life of Major André," said to have been published in London in 1856? The author (or publisher) was Dickinson or Hutchinson. I would also like details of two lives of Benedict Arnold, by Belsham and Macdonough respectively.

W. ABBATT.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small, undisplayed, advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per nonpareil line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

BOOKS WANTED.

☞ In answering, please state edition, condition, and price, including postage or express charges.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

☞ Write your wants plainly and on one side of the sheet only. Illegibly-written "wants" will be considered as not having been received. The "Publishers' Weekly" does not hold itself responsible for errors.

It should be understood that the appearance of advertisements in this column, or elsewhere in the "Publishers' Weekly," does not furnish a guarantee of credit. While it is endeavored to safeguard these columns by withdrawing the privilege of their use from advertisers who are not "good pay," booksellers should take the usual precaution, as to advertisers not known to them, that they would take in making sales to any unknown parties.

The Best Key to Educational Books.

THE

American Educational Catalogue

For 1899,

whose value to the trade is proved by the fact that it is now in its thirtieth year, and that claims to be the best practical aid to the dealer in or buyer of school books.

With its alphabetical arrangement by authors, its separate class-index, carefully sub-classified to an extent not followed by any other catalogue, its completeness and accuracy, it is presented as the best finding-list, the most complete order-list, and the most satisfactory class-catalogue for school use.

The catalogue is made entirely new each year, to omit books which have dropped out of use and to include all live books, and all new books (ready or to be ready for the Fall) are added in their proper alphabetical place.

The page giving the key to publishers will not be given in imprint editions unless specially ordered.

This Catalogue is specially planned to be of service for circulation by retailers among schools and private buyers. The imprint edition possesses not only temporary value, but will serve its purpose during the whole year. No imprint edition of less than 100 copies can be supplied. Orders for editions should be sent to us at once.

CASH TERMS:

Imprint edition—without publishers' advertisements:

With sole imprint of ordering firm, and stitched, per 100 copies, $5.00; per 1000, $40.00.

There is no extra charge for printing name, business card, etc., on the imprint page; the last page is left blank at the disposal of the dealer, but any copy for that page, advertising special lines or general business, will be set up and printed thereon for $5.00, or for $1.00 if plate is sent.

Copy for imprint and shipping directions should accompany the order.

The regular Educational Number of "THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY" will be supplied at 50 cents per copy in leatherette.

The Cross Triumphant

THE story of a "child of the law," who witnesses, amid the scenes of the recent life and death of Jesus, the deepening conflict between the Law and the Cross. Nazarite, priest and warrior, influenced by three women of widely-varying character, he beholds at last in the terrible hour of Jerusalem's downfall "The Cross Triumphant."

By FLORENCE M. KINGSLEY

Author of TITUS, STEPHEN, and PAUL

Illuminated cloth, 12mo, 364 pages, ... $1.00

HENRY ALTEMUS, Philadelphia

Sold by all booksellers, or sent postpaid by the publisher

Reproduces characters and scenes of sacred history after the death of Christ, and realistic pictures of the life and times of that eventful era.—Lutheran Observer.

A faithful transcript of events enacted in the days of Agrippa.—Philada Item.

A strong and vivid piece of fiction.—Chicago Record.

Strong in construction, rapid and dramatic in development, with charming bits of character drawing.—New York World.

Carries the reader back to the dawn of Christianity.—Pittsburg Times.

"A fresh and original contribution to political economy."—SYRACUSE HERALD.

PAUPERIZING THE RICH.

By ALFRED J. FERRIS.

In the short time since it appeared this book has been universally recognized as opening a new chapter in the discussion between the classes and the masses.

12mo, cloth, pp. 432, $1.25.

PRESS NOTICES.

It is not probable that any social economic book since Kidd's "Social Evolution" is worth, or will receive the attention that "Pauperizing the Rich" deserves for its clear thinking and originality.—New York World.

It is an ambitious and radical program, but the author urges it with an ingenuity and logic that are fascinating. . . . It is interesting and at the same time stimulating.—Pittsburgh Times.

A wholesome critique on some conventional ideas both of charity and of justice.—Outlook (New York).

A thoroughly fresh and interesting discussion of our social and economic difficulties.—Chicago Tribune.

THE KISS

AND ITS HISTORY.

By CHRISTOPHER NYROP, PH.D.,

Professor of the Roman Languages and Literature at the University of Copenhagen, Denmark, Officer of Public Instruction of France; also Honored by the Gold Medal for Merits of Roumania.

This pretty volume has been, without a single exception, most favorably received by the leading newspapers of the United States, from which we quote only a few extracts:

"Prof. Nyrop writes of the kiss with the fervor of a poet, the judgment of an epicure, and the learning of a pundit."—The Chicago Times-Herald.

"It is so replete in its historical facts, admirable in its analysis of objects and motives . . . as to be a delightful study for any reader."—The Inter-Ocean.

"It is a pretty little volume . . . and gives a great deal of curious information. Prof. Nyrop writes pleasantly, and knows how to border along delicate themes without offence."—The Chicago Chronicle.

" . . . Interesting and not nauseating."—The St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"If Prof. Nyrop has overlooked any kiss that ever happened, it will be detected by some one who knows more about the subject than I do."—The Louisville Courier-Journal.

"It is now possible for young and romantic people to learn all that is known about kissing, and in book form." —The Boston Globe.

PUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL

For 1899 (Twenty-Seventh Year.)

Large 8vo. With Duplex Index.

"The Publishers' Trade List Annual" for 1899 will contain:

The latest CATALOGUES OF AMERICAN PUBLISHERS, contributed by themselves and arranged alphabetically by the firm-names and smaller lists at the end of the volume.

These Lists, all bound in one volume, present in their combination so convenient and time-saving a working-tool as to make it indispensable to every one who has any interest in the purchase or sale of books.

The patent "DUPLEX INDEX" having given such general satisfaction, we are now applying it to all copies of the "Annual." Volumes supplied with the "DUPLEX INDEX" have the alphabet printed on the concave surface as well as on the margin of the page, which enables instantaneous reference, whether the book is open or shut.

Only those subscribing and forwarding amount now are entitled to subscription rate of $1.50; after publication day, and on orders for which we have to collect after that date, the regular price will be $2.00 net.

Remittances should be made by Check, Money Order on New York, or Registered Letter, as we cannot be responsible for any losses. Receipt for remittance will be sent by return mail.

☞ Unless special shipping directions are received, copies ready for delivery will be despatched by express unpaid. Parties so desiring can have their copies sent by mail, or by prepaid book-rate express for $1.20 per copy extra.

"One of the most time-saving and profitable instrumentalities used by the trade."
—AMERICAN NEWS CO.

We have also the agency in this country for "WHITAKER'S REFERENCE LIST." A few copies are left. The price for the present is $5.00 net, in two volumes. Those desiring this useful work of reference are advised to order at once, as it will shortly be out of print.
